

New Belmont Police Chief Begins Duties Today, Given 'Full Charge'

The Belmont City Council last night swore in O. Walter Lindholm of Walnut Creek as chief of police effective today, after Mayor Bayley Kohlmeier promised that the new chief would be in full charge of the department, responsible only to the council and the people of Belmont.

Kohlmeier also promised that the council would not interfere in the activities of the police department and that Lindholm would be at liberty to give all news to the press.

Lindholm replaces Stanley Botto who was discharged by the council at a 10 p.m. special meeting a week ago on charges of inefficiency.

Botto earlier had announced that he had been forced to resign and accused the council with interfering with the operation of the department.

The council last night voted to ratify the action taken at the July 7 special meeting, and also voted to revoke $25 a month raises granted at that time to Sgt. Edward "Red" Williams and Officers James Moore for serving as acting chief and night sergeant respectively until the new chief took over.

Wallace Benson, one-time candidate for the council, asked councilmen why the new chief was being given a $50 a month raise over the salary of the old chief, Benson said that the council recently told him that there was no money for salary increases for city employees. He said that the raise granted to the new chief might cause dissension in the department.

Councilman Lester Reetz answered that there was additional money provided in the new budget in the police department fund, but it had not been allocated yet. He promised that raises would be granted to policemen on the recommendation of the new chief.

Kohlmeier announced that the council had no plans to set up a publicity coordinator for the city, and that an earlier announcement to that effect by the police commissioner was unauthorized by the council.

The council last night also approved the granting of a use permit to Louis Knight and Kenneth Thompson of San Carlos for the operation and construction of a $110,000 public swimming pool project on Middle Rd. The project would include the construction of three swimming pools, one immediately and the other two within two years.

The council also:

Rejected bids on the sale of the city police motorcycle.

Postponed the opening of bids on landscaping the city hall until the next regular meeting.

Granted Councilman Ray Rhodes permission to leave the state for a month.

$108,000 Sale Of Land in SSF

The purchase of 30 acres of land, for a new subdivision in South San Francisco, was revealed today with the filing of a deed with County Recorder T. Clark Rice.

The sale was made by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wilms to the Atlas Realty Co., San Francisco firm which developed large subdivisions in the Sunset and Lake Merced areas. The purchase price was $108,000.

The new subdivision is to be off El Camino Real, north of the Tanforan race track. There are 161 lots in the tract.

Breeze, Rossi Open in Millbrae

Breeze and Rossi, a Redwood City real estate firm, this week opened an office in Millbrae, it was announced today.

The Millbrae office will be under the direction of Tony Rossi, who was formerly with the Redwood City office, while M. E. Breeze will be in charge of the handle all the payments for the school.

RC Olympic Hope Misses Final Event

Redwood City's only hope of a claim to fame in the coming Olympic games vanished over the weekend when Simpson Reinhard, who reached the small caliber target shooting finals in June, was unable to attend the tryouts in Quantico, Va., held July 9-10.

Sharpshooter Reinhard, of Reinhard & Co., jewelers, along with more than one other qualifier, didn't make the trip because the Olympic committee evidently did not live up to its agreement to pay transportation costs to Quantico, he said.

Six of the nine finalists who did go were financed by means other than the Olympic committee, he explained.

Reinhard was only eight points behind the leader as he shot his best qualifying round of 521 out of a possible 600, with the 22 caliber gun at 50 meters. More than 200 men competed in the West Coast trials held in Seattle, Oakland and Los Angeles.

$44,030 Added To County Budget

San Mateo County's board of supervisors today ordered a $44,030 addition made to the already-bulging county budget for fiscal 1949-50.

The sum will be included in the budget to finance operation, for one year, of the new county-operated school for mentally handicapped children.

A state law, effective July 1, directed that such schools be set up by the counties, according to Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools.

Miss Abbott said state financial help would be given the project for fiscal 1949-50. But this year the county will have to

Menlo Park Blast Cost: $35,000

Insurance adjusters today estimated that more than $35,000 damage had occurred in the Menlo Park apartment explosion at 1031 Noel St. yesterday afternoon, which injured three persons, totally wrecked the apartment, broke windows in the adjacent apartments, and shook houses in nearby blocks.

May K. Brown, 74, resident of the apartment was in her bedroom when the blast came. She suffered two fractured ankles, cuts and abrasions. Fred Glanville, 33, 2251 Lanes Rd., Palo Alto, operating a fumigating machine in the apartment, had one leg fractured, and also suffered cuts and abrasions.

James R. Hennington, 29, resident manager of the apartments, suffered minor abrasions. He was watering a lawn nearby at the time of the accident. The injured persons were taken to Palo Alto Hospital. Hennington was released shortly following treatment there.

Menlo Park's Fire Chief Thomas Cuff, has spent all morning investigating the scene of the accident. He said that no conclusions have been reached as yet but that experts will arrive tomorrow morning to go through the wreckage in an attempt to determine the origin of the blast.

Time of the explosion was estimated at 1:15 p.m., by Menlo Police Chief George J. Potter, who commented that he felt it from his office, several blocks away.

The blast blew out windows and doors of the apartment, ripped holes in the floor and ceiling, broke most of the floor joists, and left side of the building bulging crazily outward.

Resulting flames were extinguished by Menlo firemen but during the melee two men suffered slight cuts.

Chief Cuff said that the entire building was lifted off its foundations. Force of the blast was shown when a leg of a chair was torn from its socket, the cord from a venetian blind forced in and the chair leg shoved back into the joint enclosing the cord.

RC Police Investigate Two Burglaries Here

Redwood City police today announced they were investigating two minor burglaries which took place last Thursday and Friday.

Entered were the Redwood Planing Mill at 727 Shasta St. and the Redwood City Laundry at 1823 El Camino Real. Taken from the mill was $30 from a safe. Taken from the laundry was an undetermined amount of clothing and money.

MASON NOW INTERNE

Harry E. Mason Jr., who graduated from the Stanford Medical School in June, is serving his internship at the Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Mason Sr., 640 Hopkins St., Redwood City.

News of Commuters

Commuters turned out en masse for the July Fourth celebration. Too bad the sun didn't do the same thing. Anyway the boys enjoyed working in the booth and are looking forward to bigger and better things next year. Cochairman of the House Committee Jim Craig reporting for Stan Perkins says the business was a financial success.

Pres. George Raubinger entertained the directors of the club at his home last Tuesday night at which time 14 committees were appointed to carry on the hard work for the coming year. If anyone wasn't appointed to serve on a committee this year it is because he isn't a member of the club.

Forty-two members have been placed on the house committee so if anybody knows of a good place to meet contact Stan as the wives may go on a sitdown strike after the first get-together.

May be a change in the meeting night so watch close for an announcement the first of next week.

Dues are due says Fred Jaeger, secretary. Notices are in the mail so don't forget to contact Fred. Lloyd and Mrs. Lieberman our traveling commuters are still touring the country. Lloyd says he stayed in Washington D. C. long enough to help the Senate pass a couple of laws.

Walter Harden took a run-out powder from the 7:42 bridge foursome last week and came back with a bride. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harden who will make their home in Redwood City.

Sick Committee Chmn. Elmer Ross reports Noah Payne in Palo Alto Hospital due to an appendectomy.

Incidentally, Elmer turned the duties of chairman of the Butcher Field and Railroad Crossings to newly appointed Chmn. "Loco" Bill McKeehan together with a long detailed report on a piece of paper. Bill also wanted Elmer's crystal ball but Elmer says "No Soap," has to use that to find out whose sick.

Cecil Campbell has taken over the membership job and says this is to be a banner year with a new member promised by each member of the club. Let's look around for a lot of go-getters.

We took in the local ball game Sunday at the new recreation center along with about 50 other spectators, including the ball clubs, to see the local boys win their game. Saw Charley Mish, Chester Armstrong and Guido Simoni. Remember the old days when we used to go down to Sequoia Sunday afternoons to see the games. Why not start the old custom again?

Al Armitage taking a week off to paint his house. Stan Perkins on vacation down south and if anyone knows where I can get a noiseless typewriter let me know.

Action Delayed On Police Dist.

No conclusive action on the establishment of Ravenswood or North Palo Alto police protection districts will be taken by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors until Sept. 7—at the earliest.

The supervisors, meeting in Redwood City today, took under consideration a report filed by the proponents of the Ravenswood district.

A study of the report will be made by the board and a public hearing held on it Sept. 7.

At that time North Palo Alto residents—many of whom oppose the inclusion of their area in the Ravenswood district—will get a chance to voice their reasons for opposition.

Then, after the supervisors have heard arguments for and against the proposed Ravenswood district, residents of North Palo Alto will bring before the board their plan for a North Palo Alto police district, separate from that of Ravenswood.

In presenting the Ravenswood report this morning, James T. O'Keefe Jr., Redwood City attorney, told the board the proposed Ravenswood district would cost approximately $21,145 a year to operate.

It would mean a tax of 0.5 percent on the area's property owners, he said.

Community Chest Drive Set Oct. 3

The Redwood City Community Chest's campaign for $35,735 will start Oct. 3, the board of directors decided last night. James R. Hedge, campaign manager, said the opening of the campaign will be preceded by a rally for campaign workers. The customary "kick-off" dinner will be abandoned this year.

The directors also voted to limit the activities of the advance gift committee to the commercial and industrial districts. The residential areas will be left intact to the district workers.

GARDEN: Too Little Water Causes Crop Blossom End Rot

BY ROLLY LANGLEY
What causes blossom-end rot? That's a question that many are asking these days as they see squash and tomatoes sizing up, with quality down. "I guess it's the water. Too much water rots things and if water rots cloth and wood, I guess we can expect it to rot our tender young tomatoes," writes one greenthumb, trying hard to be philosophical about it.

And she's right, in a way. Water does rot untreated wood, and cloth, and such.

But this is going to surprise some of you. It's not too much water that causes blossom-end rot. This unfortunate "disease" is caused by TOO LITTLE water, at the time the fruits are setting. The supply of moisture must be constant, and if the plant is suffering from lack of water during the setting period, so that all parts of the fruit can't be developed. Bacteria and molds find this sort of tissue made to order for their attacks.

You can be pretty certain of this: more plants have been injured by lack of water than by an excess.

It's too bad that conflicting suggestions get to running around. Sometimes one individual, through a freak bit of luck, gets outstanding results, in spite of going about it the wrong way. He is so impressed that he tells all his friends. Often he thinks he's made a precedent-shattering discovery, and talks it up that way. Until his friends have all tried his method—and failed—the friends all believe their friends, and think the garden writers are just a bunch of uninformed old foggies. (Of course, they may think so all the time anyway.)

I know of one case where a greenthumb had wonderful (really) tomatoes. He didn't irrigate them, or sprinkle. He didn't do anything, in fact, but wait until the fruits were ripe, and then pick them.

His friends marveled when he told them about his wonderful luck—and the first year he'd tried, too! "I think all this talk about putting a lot of water on vegetables is a bunch of hokum," he was saying. So some of his friends tried to follow suit, and wound up with losing headway gained through a whole lot of effort.

How did this happen? How did one man manage to raise tomatoes without any irrigation? Well it turned out there was a broken pipe several feet under the surface. Those "unwatered" tomatoes had their toes in the water the whole season!

And you've no doubt seen it here, when I've run the letters

Violations Of Housing Law Reported

Possibilities that hundreds of violations of the Federal Housing Law occur, involving local buyers and sellers of real estate, were brought out here when the Multiple Listing Bureau held its weekly meeting this morning.

Put into effect June 30, 1947, the amendment to the Veterans Preference Law states that any home up for sale must be advertised and posted for a 30-day period, giving veterans the right to first purchase. A sale to a non-veteran of World War II during this period involves a Federal offense.

If any change in price is made during or after the 30-day period, the change must be posted for seven days for each change. Each time that house is resold the same rules apply.

Instigated by the Federal housing expediter, under the authority of Congress, the regulation places equal blame on either buyer or seller violating the rule.

Don Owen, general manager of MLB, said that he wished to let the public know of its responsibilities.

"This is to give the buying and selling public notice of the law," he stated. "Before buying and selling housing property they should seek complete information in order to protect themselves."

Owen added that there have been many violations of the law due to the fact that the amendment had been tacked on to the end of another bill which was completely apart from the Veterans Preference Bill.

"Every veteran who has purchased a home must give a 30-day posting and comply with the law in every way prior to reselling."

What you want to wait for is the following year—see how he comes out, after a year of advertising!

By advertising, I'm not referring to what the uninitiated grower is telling his friends. That's just so much hokum, and if they've had any experience, they'll smile, and politely carry on with their own pest control programs.

But when you grow either flowers or vegetables for a season, you are, in a sense, advertising to the insect world. Sometimes you can get by without much trouble, because the insects haven't found out about your project. Depend on it, though, they will soon enough.

Indeed, as more and more people get to growing plants, as gardens become more universal, we can expect an ever-increasing pest problem, with greater need for control.

Do your best to keep every plant on the place growing vigorously. That's the best disease and pest control known to science, for a healthy plant is more resistant to all forms of attack—from insects AND disease.

Youth Killed, 6 Hurt As Auto Overturns

A San Mateo High School senior was killed, and six of his companions injured Saturday night on newly opened Canada Rd. while a group of 14 boys and girls were en route to a teen-age picnic.

The automobile accident victim is Kenneth C. Zarelli, 17, of 240 Chaddbourne Ave., Millbrae. Injured in the accident were James DiBenedetti, 19, 2431 Hopkins Ave., Shirley Stephens, 17, 248 Roosevelt Ave., Rita Barrientos, 16, Santa Cruz; Gary Van Houten, 17, 3232 Middlefield Rd., Menlo Park; Connie Jones, 16, 550 Iris St.; and Lynn Fairbairn, Belmont, the California Highway Patrol reported.

All were treated at Community Hospital for cuts and bruises. The CHP reported that the car, a 1939 Mercury convertible, driven by DiBenedetti, ran to the left side of the road, hit a culvert and rolled over, coming to rest on its wheels.

All of the occupants except Miss Barrientos, who was sitting in the right front, were thrown out.

Sgt. Otto Schromm said that all evidence gathered at the scene of the accident indicated that the car was going at excessive speed.

The accident occurred near the Water Temple, about three and a half miles north of Woodside Rd. Miss Stephens reported that she and 13 of her friends had started in three cars Saturday evening for a beach party at Half Moon Bay.

After going part of the way, they discovered that they had failed to take wood along for the fires, Miss Stephens said, and they turned back. The plans were changed, so that the party would have been held at the Emerald Lake cross.

Miss Stephens said that while the car was headed south along Canada Rd., which was opened up last week after extensive widening and straightening work on it, the car suddenly swerved. She said that the metal of one of the axles crystallized, and the axle broke, sending the car out of control.

Young Zarelli was the son of George Zarelli, a handicapper at the Hollywood Race Track, the CHP stated.

Seven other persons were injured during the weekend in two accidents reported to the CHP, which stated that five non-injury collisions also occurred.

John H. Wilson, 30, of San Francisco and Romulo C. Avera, 44, Colma, suffered minor injuries when the cars they were driving collided at the intersection of Hillside Blvd. and Castle Ave., Colma. The others injured were Regina Wilson, 34, and Gail Agnani, 55.

Three members of the family of Harold Matson, Albany, were injured Sunday in a four-car rear-end collision on Half Moon Bay Rd. at the Skyline Blvd. intersection, according to a report made to the CHP by Alfred L. Martin, 27, of 1043 Alberni Ave., East Palo Alto, one of the drivers involved. Matson and his family continued their trip after the accident.

Blasting Caps Injure SF Youth

Twelve-year-old Anthony Martin of San Francisco learned the hard way that blasting caps are not like the caps you use in cap pistols.

While exploring the ocean shore near Rockaway Beach with his mother and stepfather, the boy found a box of dynamite caps.

Curious to see what would happen, he hit one of the caps with a rock.

He was treated for shock and burns at Mission Emergency Hospital.

San Bruno Councilman Sued for Libel

A $75,000 libel suit was filed in superior court this week against William Maurer, San Bruno city councilman and publisher of the San Bruno Who's Who, as a result of an article concerning the Apr. 13 city election.

The suit was filed by Lyman E. McGuffin, another San Bruno councilman. He charged that his reputation has been damaged by allegedly defamatory statements made in Maurer's publication.

In the article, published on May 8 in the throw-away, various derogatory statements were made, McGuffin claimed. The article, he stated, was headlined "Blackmail Marks Local Election."

"The recent city election campaign was a far cry from having been the 'clean' campaign the McGuffin-Risso team had declared they would conduct," the article stated.

"Instead, it degenerated into a disgraceful affair, marked by intimidation, coercion and blackmail, to say nothing of a free flow of money."

The suit referred to a "Candidate X," who allegedly was threatened with exposure of his domestic problems unless he dropped out of the election race.

The mysterious candidate, according to the article, signed a paper agreeing to withdraw, but later changed his mind. McGuffin stated that Maurer's signed article charged that "third-degree" tactics were used to try to force this candidate to withdraw.

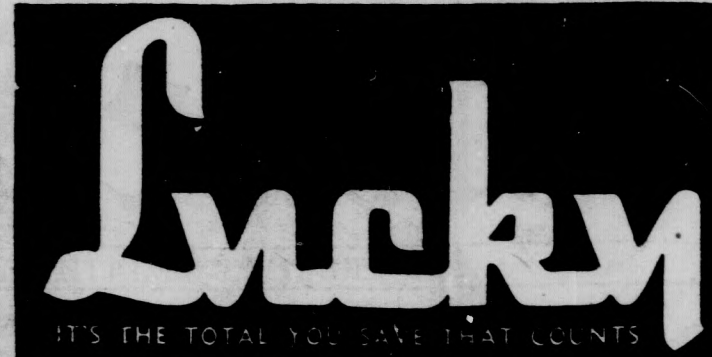

Under the heading, "Enter Here the McGuffin-Risso Group," the article stated that this group "took advantage of a deplorable situation and with ghoulish lust invaded the sanctity of a home, calling on the estranged wife temporarily living with her mother, to 'pump' her, so to speak, adducing her to divulge strictly personal matters."

"These ghouls," the article stated, "herded" the candidate into a San Bruno newspaper office, to give him the "so-called third degree, an ordeal which lasted from 9 p.m. until after midnight."

They forced him to sign a withdrawal by tactics "as much as a stick'm up cuss relieves you of your valuables," the article stated.

When it's trout planting time in the mountains

...P.G. and E. helps stock the streams

Packing in to remote lakes and streams high in the mountains go sure-footed pack horses with loads of trout...thousands of fingerlings "packed" in each specially Man's ingenuity improves on Mother Nature at the Burney Hatchery. Under natural spawning conditions, only 5% of the eggs laid in streams survive. Here 90% are hatched and cared for until they reach stream size, and are ready for planting.

"Planting" the baby fish helps keep California streams well-stocked. Many of these brooks used to be dry during the summer. Now the release of stored water from P.G. and E. reservoirs keeps most of them flowing the year 'round.

for the record
On P.G. and E.'s system more than 100 lakes and reservoirs aid fish conservation.
Since the removal of war time controls, P.G. and E. has spent $225,000,000 expanding its fish-hatching system.
The huge building program, now in its third year, is going full, speed ahead.
